Jim Barker Memorial Award

The individual will have worked enthusiastically on behalf of the RVAA for many years. He or she will have dedicated both time and money in spearheading projects and programs aimed at improving the RV Aftermarket Association. He or she should have served on either the Board of Directors or chaired an Association Committee. He or she should have organized various Association events important to their and the Association's aftermarket business. His or her dedication to improve the RV industry should be obvious not only to the nominator, but to many of the awardee's colleagues and contemporaries.
